FINDINGS:

The Second Division of the Adjustment Board, upon the whole record and all the evidence, finds that:

The carrier or carriers and the employee or employees involved in this dispute are respectively carrier and employees within the meaning of the Railway Labor Act as approved June 21, 1934.

This Division of the Adjustment Board has jurisdiction over the dispute involved herein.

Parties to said dispute waived right of appearance at hearing thereon.

The events giving rise to the instant Claim occurred at the Carrier's Houston Car Heavy Maintenance Plant located at Houston, Texas.

On June 10, 1983, a group of cars were out of service and awaiting wheel and axle assemblies at various locations, in Houston, Texas. A hospital train was prepared and the cars were dispatched to GATX Plant, Hearne, Texas for repair. With the filing of the instant Claim, the Organization contends that the Carrier violated Rules 117 and 29 of the Controlling Agreement because it failed to keep the car at its Houston facility to be worked by the Claimants who are Carmen.

Rule 117, the Classification of Work Rule, provides that Carmen's work "shall consist" of duties that are enumerated within the Rule. Rule 29 provides that "none but mechanics or apprentices regularly employed" shall perform "mechanics' work as per the special rules of each craft ***." These Rules contemplate that the Carrier, which is a party to the Agreement with the Organization, has control over the work to be performed. In this case, the cars in dispute were not owned or controlled by the Carrier; rather, they were the property of the GATX Corporation. The Carrier did not have the materials needed to repair the cars. As a consequence, GATX requested the Carrier to send the cars to its home shop for repairs. Pursuant to AAR Rules, private or foreign line car owners have the prerogative, when one of their cars becomes bad ordered, to either direct the Carrier to repair the car or direct it to send the car to the home shop for repairs by the owner or a contract shop. In compliance with the AAR Rules, the cars in question were returned to GATX.

There is nothing in the record to indicate that the Organization has been granted the exclusive right to perform work on privately owned cars. To be sure the Agreement does not provide for such an exclusive right; nor has the Organization demonstrated a past practice to support its Claim. In Second Division Award No. 7584, the following was stated:

"Numerous awards have held that a Carrier is not responsible for assigning work on property which it neither controls nor legally owns. This Board recognizes and adheres to this principle. In this case the Carrier had no ownership rights in the transformer. In the absence of such ownership rights or the right to control the work, the Carrier did not have the legal power to assign the transformer work to its employees. Without this legal power and authority the Carrier could not violate the classification of work rule or its subcontracting agreements. The claim therefore, must be denied."

The Claim is denied.
