Claim No. 3:

- (a) That the Southern Pacific Transportation Company (Pacific Lines) violated the Agreement between the Company and the Employes of the Signal Department, represented by the Brotherhood of Railroad Signalmen, effective April 1, 1947 (reprinted April 1, 1958 including revisions) and particularly Rule 16 which resulted in violation of rule 70.

opinion OF BOARD: The employes have progressed this claim entirely on a procedural issue, rather than on the merits. It is their contention that Carrier did not give the General Chairman timely notice of the decision of Carrier's highest officer. The General Chairman advised Carrier by telephone on February 7, 1974 that he had not received a denial of the claim. Carrier advised him that a letter, dated January 24, 1974, denying the claim had been mailed on that date. Carrier furnished a copy of the letter, which included the stamped notation "copies mailed January 24, 1974".

The cases dealing with this issue have not been uniform in their holdings. The employes took the position on the property that Carrier was obliged to insure receipt of the notice of denial within the 60-day period. Carrier has relied upon a line of cases which holds that placing notice in the mail within the 60-day period 60 that it should be received before the time limits had run, satisfied the obligation under the Rule.

Carrier recognizes that it must prove that it fulfilled that obligation and takes the position that it did 60 when it furnished the General Chairman a copy of its denial notice which indicated that it had been mailed on January 24, 1974. On the property the employes never took issue with Carrier's asserted mailing. Although Carrier had the burden of proving its mailing, once it presented its affirmative defense it was up to the organization to take issue with that defense if they had grounds for doing 60. A6 the record stands, Carrier has carried it6 burden of proving that it mailed notice of denial on January 24, 1974.

The failure to deliver lay, not with Carrier, but with the Postal Service. Such a failure is not chargeable to a party where the practice had been to use the mails for giving notice and the notice was mailed in time to reach the other party within the the limits.

FINDINGS: The Third Division of the Adjustment Board, upon the whole record and all the evidence, finds and holds:

That the parties waived oral hearing;

That the Curia and the Employes involved in this dispute are respectively Carrier and Employes within the meaning of the Railway Labor Act, as approved June 21, 1934;

That this Division of the Adjustment Board has jurisdiction over the dispute Involved herein; and

That the Agreement was not violated.
